

COLLOQUIUM

European Particle Physics Strategy

Halina Abramowicz

Tel Aviv University

January 31, 2018

4:00 p.m. - Wilson Hall, One West

European particle physics community is planning exercise of long term planning. The process is starting with proposals to consider expected late 2018 and discussions to progress in 2019. The final plan is expected to be approved by CERN Council in Spring of 2020. The colloquium will discuss the process and goals of the European strategy exercise and how various groups and individual scientists can participate in this process.